

On March 31, an Acting Rector of the Sokhumi State University, Professor Joni Apakidze and academic personnel of the University held the meeting with students.

Participants of the meeting talked about the ongoing processes in Georgia: “We are not the political organization, but educational institution and should serve our homeland through perfection of our professional skills. We are not against political activity and consider that everyone has the right of expressing personal opinion, but we think that it is impermissible to let the things develop the way they did in the beginning of 1990-ies, which we remember very well” noted Joni Apakidze during his conversation with students.

Students denounced any attempt of taking up arms and using violence, which can lead the country to inevitable catastrophe. “We must always remember that the students of Sokhumi State University serve to the idea of returning to Abkhazia, so we should be very careful and wise in the present situation”.
